

WILLIMANTIC

Norwich Bulletin, Willimantic Office, 23 Church street, telephone 166.

What Is Going On Tonight.

Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Willimantic Lodge, No. 1311, meets.

Eastern Star Lodge, No. 44, A. F. &
A. M., at Masonic hall.

The January term of the criminal superior court opened in Willimantic Tuesday, with Judge John W. Banks of Bridgeport on the bench. Prayer was offered at the opening of the court by Rev. Walter F. Berchert, rector of St.
Paul's Episcopal church. A change from the last session of the superior court, held in this city in 1920 was noticeable, Judge Banks wearing a robe in accordance with a recent ruling. Court was opened shortly after noon.

Oliver Gobin, 25, of Charlestown, Mass., the first prisoner put to plea, pleaded guilty to the charge of committing burglary in the town of Woodstock on the day of November 24, 1918. State's Attorney Charles H. Searle explained that the case had been held up as the result of similar charges against Gobin in Masachusetts where he was held on eight coupons for petty larceny. Gobin recently completed a three months' jail sentence for these offenses. It was stated that his thieving in Woodstock struck terror into the residents of that town. Attorney Charles L. Torrey of Putnam said Gobin had formerly resided in Putnam and bore a good name until the mania for thieving overcame him. He ventured the opinion that Gobin was not exactly himself. Most of the stolen articles had been returned. Gobin has a wife and three small children. The court imposed a sentence of one year in jail.

Tony Lamas, charged with theft of two rolls of cotton cloth, to the value of $388.80 from the United States Finishing Company of Sterling, June 19th last, entered a plea of guilty. Decision was reserved. He was represented by Attorney J. J. Desmond of Norwich.

Joseph Tyra, of Plainfield, pleaded guilty to the charge of operating a motor vehicle in a reckless manner on the night of November 25th last. Attorney B. W. Danielson representing the accused, said a snowstorm on the night in question made driving difficult and accused largely for the collision between Tyra's automobile and the second au-while you sleep"

Following a recess of the court, taken at 1 o'clock, Daniel E. Mulcahy of Worcester, Mass., was put to plea. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge of violation of the motor vehicle law. His violation consisted of running down two boys in the town of Brooklyn, injuring them severely and falling to stop and render aid. Attorney Konig, of Worcester, explained that Mulcahy was driving a car owned by his sister and that the machine was not insured. His sister lived on a moderate income and since the accident both she and her brother had spent practically all they own in making restitution for the injury to the boys. He was fined $50 and costs by Judge Banks.

Maybelle Keller, of Willimantic, who was charged with adultery, pleaded guilty.
The offense took place Nov. 1, last, with John Dowell, a sailor. Attorney Danahy, representing the woman, said she came from a respectable family, but had suffered the misfortune of marrying a sailor lacking even common decency, honor, or principle. He had introduced her to other men and after leaving her dowry had deserted her.
He stated that the mother of the girl had promised to bring her daughter back into the path of righteousness. Judge Banks imposed a jail sentence of one year, judgment being suspended and the accused was placed in charge of Mrs.
Ora M. Clark as special probation officer, with orders to report to her once a week.

The case against Dowell was nolle.
Adjournment was taken at 2:35 p. m.
Judge Banks ordering the court to come in at 10 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning.

John F. Smith and John F. Crotty were before the police court Tuesday morning, each charged with intoxication.
Smith pleaded guilty and was given a fine of $10 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail, judgment being suspended on the latter count. Not being able to pay his fine he was taken to the Brooklyn jail. Crotty also pleaded guiland was given a jail sentence of thirty days. Some time ago he was hit by an automobile and was in the hospital for two and one-half months at the town's expense. Later he was taken to the almshouse. He promised to leave town and join his daughters but has never done so. When his sentence was pronounced, Crotty, who is somewhat deaf, asked what the sentence was. Upon learning it was thirty days in jail he said "I would rather be in jail than in the poor house anyway."

About two hundred and fifty members attended the January meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held at the rooms Tuesday night. Supper was served at 7 o'clock by the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Paul's Episcopal church. The opening of the business meeting that followed President James A. Fullerton announced a piece of mink pie and a square of cheese. The mink pie was a gift from the Chamber of Commerce. A. Lincoln Weatherhead collecting the money, Irving M. Ford disposing of the pie.

The usual reports were read by Secretary M. E. Sullivan, and were accepted.
Seven new members were voted in, and two resignations were accepted. W. C.
Norris, chairman of the entertainment committee, announced the meeting for the next two months as follows: Farmers and Manufacturers Night, January 15th with debate. "Resolved, That the Farmer is of More Importance to the Country Than the Manufacturer." February meeting, discussion of Better Government, combining the town and city government.
Mid-month meeting on similar subject.
A communication from the State Chamber of Commerce was read requesting the legislative committee to give the town legislative problems they would desire the state government bodies to enact during the coming session. It was voted that the committee be authorized to give local views, two of these members to be local representatives to the legislature, one a member of the State Chamber of Commerce, and two from the local chamber. The following were appointed: Fred P. Jordan, chairman, Mayor Charles A.
Gates, First Selectman James M. Smith, William E. Jordan, and W. C. Norris.
Robert C. Denning, of Hartford, state director of Americanization was then introduced as one of the speakers of the evening. His topic was, "Americanization." Mr. Denning stated that he had been in the state of Connecticut for his department and by directors appointed in the several cities and towns in the state. He stated that during the past year 25,000 immigrants came into this state and only 7,000 have attended schools of any kind. Three things remaining for the Americanization directors to do, these are: first, get the immigrants to attend public schools; second, get them to attend classes of instruction; third, and most important, take the schools to the immigrants. The definition of Americanization work is as follows: Americanization is any process in which any man or woman is made an active, loyal American citizen. Many of the inmates of jails would not have been there had they received knowledge of what American institutions and government stand for.

The second speaker of the evening was Dr. Fayson Smith, of Boston, state commissioner of education for Massachusetts. His topic was, "Immigration." Immigration, he said, as a problem does not exist. The real problem is assimilation and this should begin much earlier than it does now. Two problems are now met, he said, these being the selection of material for assimilation, and the methods of assimilation. At one time the immigrant to this country had a fair understanding of American institutions and government but today this is not so.
The immigrant comes here with no knowledge of this country, and he is not to be where little is known of American institutions. Their language is also different, thus making it harder for them to adapt themselves to local conditions.

We now have before the legislative bodies in Washington the Johnson bill, which will restrict immigration for one year but in reality this will stop immigration for the period. This is a good thing and should be done. When the bill was being fought we believed that at its end this country would have time to adjust itself, but it is not so, and immigrants are coming in faster than ever before. However, it comes prevents further immigration for one year and falls to enact additional improvements to the old immigration laws. The country will be left at the end of the year as at the present time. A policy such as Canada has in use would be the proper thing for this country. Through the systematic practice of immigrants can be allowed to come to this country or prevented from doing so before they leave their own country. The immigrant would be allowed to come here but first it would be known where he intends to go and he should be sent there immediately upon arrival.

However, the most outstanding question is the language question. We can never bring about the result of a monolingual people until every person in this country speak the common tongue. Laws should be enforced regulating speech, and all children should be compelled to learn the English language, and opportunity should be given to learn. Classes in factories would in a great measure make this an easy task.

The regular meeting of the Willimantic Woman's club was held Tuesday at 8:30 Main street, President Mrs.
Robert H. Fenton occupying the chair.
The speaker of the afternoon was Dr.
Roy F. Richardson, who gave an interesting talk on the subject, "Woman in the Modern World."

Following the regular meeting of Violet Rebekah lodge, No. 57, I. O. O. F.,

Kerr's FLAX-SEED EMULSION

Countless grave sicknesses are recognized by the medical profession as having their direct or indirect cause in a neglected cold or cough. Kerr's flax seed emulsion, Linoline, is most helpful. Medicine knows no surer healing agent for the inflamed mucous membranes of nose, throat and lung passages. Thus while Linoline is removing colds, coughs and bronchitis it is also nature's chief aid in restoring vitality.

Cut Your Butter Bills in Half First Prize Nut Margarine costs just about half as much as butter. And you will like it better. Pure, delicious in flavor and daintily fragrant—try it once and it will replace butter on your table and in your kitchen for good.

No animal fats in First Prize. Just pure vegetable and coconut oils churned to creamy smoothness with whole milk.

You can own a set of fine Parisian China Dishes by saving the coupons that come with First Prize. Read how easy it is for you to get them.

You will find the coupons with Baby Brand Oleomargarine also. Try it.
